

Hi, I'm Tim Duschenes

I'm a designer focused on helping people lead more fulfilling lives. I work on understanding behaviour, building strategy, and making it all happen through design.

SKILLS

Personal

- Systems thinking
- Behavioural design
- Graphic design
- Collaboration
- Rapid ideation

Computational

- Adobe Creative Suite
- Html/Css
- Arduino/Processing
- Digital making
- Solidworks/Rhino

EXPERIENCE

Design Associate—SYPartners

Since May 2017

- Worked with senior leadership teams of major corporations, co-creating strategies to help them keep up with a rapidly changing world
- Collaborated in small, flexible teams of strategists and designers to build, communicate and implement strategic plans
- Designed print graphics, experiences and events to enable client transformation
- Client list: IBM, BlackRock, Ogilvy, GOproject, Kellogg, and Royal Caribbean

MGH Sagam Fellowship

Summer 2015

- Designed the centre for African Innovation in Healthcare Technology, Sagam, Kenya. Worked in partnership with Massachusetts General Hospital
- Worked on-site, guiding building processes and adapting design

STARTUP WORK

Brown Ventures Office

Autumn 2016

Client: Polyroma

- Developed a broad range of potential use-cases for long lasting scent-infused polymers

Client: MicroTissues Inc,

- Partnered with molecular biology research team to advance living-tissue 3D printing technologies

MIT GrandHack

Spring 2016

Client: Dropak

- Designed products, graphics and system to help glaucoma patients follow complex eyedropper regimes
- Patent filed for both eyedropper design and system

EDUCATION

Rhode Island School of Design

2013—2017

BFA, Honours, Industrial Design

Full scholarship

Brown University

Classes in Economics, Political Science, Ethnographic Research and Music Theory